ABOUT OUR PARTNER - CAPANNARI ICE CREAM

Just how good is the ice cream from this family owned and operated shop? Put it this way: Since its 2001 debut, the game-changing Mount Prospect, Illinois, parlor has been named “Best Ice Cream in Chicago” by Chicago Magazine, “Best Classic Ice Cream in Chicago” by Time Out, and one of the Top 10 “Best Scoops in America” by Good Morning America. In other words, it’s “Top Pick, Awesome Ice Cream” - Bon Appetit Magazine.

Every batch of Capannari Ice Cream starts with only the freshest and finest ingredients. Co-owner and master chef Jim Capannari creates each of his super-premium flavors in his state-of-the-art kitchen, expertly blending small batches of his super-rich ice cream just four gallons at a time. The result is only the freshest, most flavorful classic and distinctive, mouth-watering ice creams, like classic Madagascar Vanilla, decadent “Lick the Bowl” Cake Batter, and their signature Black Raspberry Chip.

A combined venture between sisters Meg Capannari and Katie Dix and their husbands Jim Capannari and Ken Dix, this sweet shop has become one of the most respected small businesses in Illinois. With Jim heading up production, Katie handling operations, and Ken managing catering and sales, they’ve developed a very successful and beloved boutique ice cream empire that caters to a devout following of gourmet ice cream lovers. Very active and generous within their community, Capannari Ice Cream provides a full summer schedule of free family events and supports local schools. They even restored Mt. Prospect’s oldest building – the historic Moehling General Store & Post Office – to be the home for their old-fashioned ice cream shop.
